AITCHISON DELEGATES: CELEBRATING PERFORMANCE AND ACHIEVEMENT

We are delighted to acknowledge the performance and achievements of our Aitchison delegates. Their participation reflects the confidence, preparation and dedication that our students bring to every opportunity.

Representing an institution beyond the classroom requires communication skills, intellectual curiosity and the ability to engage with new perspectives. Such experiences allow students to develop confidence while learning to express their ideas effectively.

SAP: BUILDING THE HABIT OF MANNERS AND COURTESY

Good manners and courtesy are essential elements of a student's personal development. Under the Student Assessment Policy (SAP), particular emphasis is placed on how students communicate, interact and demonstrate respect towards others.

Students are encouraged to practise polite language, greet teachers and elders respectfully, listen attentively and treat their classmates with kindness. Small gestures, such as saying "please", "thank you" and "excuse me", contribute to creating a positive and respectful learning environment.

Our aim is to develop individuals who understand good character is reflected in academic performance and also in everyday behaviour.
